Restaurants: Again where do we start? we can only offer suggestions for places that we have personally visited or have it on good authority from friends, so our recommendations would have to be Fairways, Excellent food and service Also in Villamartin Plaza you will find Eduardo's it is British owned and top end. Or go for Chinese, Thai, Indian, German, Hungarian, Typical Spanish, whatever your taste, there's a restaurant for you.

Bars: Where do we start? as you would expect as in most tourist areas of Spain, the Great British Pub is not that far away, nor The Great Irish Pub, and two classy Wine Bars. Chemise nice relaxing bar a stones throw away and also many bars situated around the complex what ever your taste Karaoke or disco Villamartin Plaza is on your doorstep or you can travel to the Cabaret Strip (where there are clubs and bars about 20 mins via taxi.

Street Markets: You will find street markets all along the Orihuela Costa, here are a few of the best. Torrevieja, Friday 1200 Stalls. Playa Flamenca, Saturday, 250 Stalls. San Miguel, Wednesday, 200 Stalls

Shopping: Although there are many fine shops in and around Playa Flamenca and La Mata, some of you may fancy something a little special. Torrevieja is a short drive away and has an exceptional variety of shops to chose from, supermarkets, trendy little boutiques, shoes, jewellery, electrical and many large department stores, take a stroll along the promenade where there are many small market stalls and restaurants.

Alicante is a little further away, but as one of the largest cities it offers a much wider selection of shops and department stores, a visit to 'El Corte Inglaish' is a must.

- Murcia is worth a drive out to see, a beautiful town with many shops and restaurants. The city was founded in the year 831 and has been subjected to a vast array of influences over the years of particular importance is the Arabic wall which in its heyday was 15 metres high and had 95 towers some of which can still be seen today. Check out the Tower 92 metres high built over 2 centuries (what a view).

Cartagena is a lovely mix of old and new with stunning 'olde worlde' Spanish properties, good shops, museums and parks. The city is over 2500 years old as with Murcia the remains of the Punic Wall can still be seen today as well as Roman ruins, amphitheatre and public baths.

Banks - There are banks situated around Villamartin so you will never run out of money and accept all major credit cards also.

- Supermarkets - There are plenty of supermarkets that are situated about 10 minutes drive or supermarket which is reasonably priced.
